1. What's ONE ground rule that you would implement for your course?

21 Responses

ID	Responses
1	Assume Positive Intent
2	Be kind
3	No one speaks twice until everyone speaks once
4	Always be respectful
5	Equal voices, Respect.
6	COnfidentiality - not sharing other's info beyond the group
7	Students should respect each others' comments and responses.
8	be respectful to other ideas
9	Not cutting each other when someone is speaking.
10	Practice curiosity rather than judgment in response to one another's contributions.
11	Guarantee thinking time before calling for responses
12	Using respectful language and acknowledging one's positioning
13	- encourage voicing alternate perspectives, as one's "own" view, not as critique of others'
14	Listen to others before reacting/speaking/interrupting
15	I will always be flexible and supportive in terms of extending/negotiating new deadlines and encourage students to reach out to me for anything.
16	Listen actively!
17	No personal attacks; "I" statements not "you"
18	always can pass
19	Ask for clarification if you are confused about what someone said.
20	Respectfulness peer to peer and prof to student
21	respect