

Group Activity Participation: Self-Assessment

Checklist	Consistently	Most of the time	Inconsistently or almost never
Relation to Peers:	Check the column that best describes your participation and provide some good examples where you have done this.		If you select this column explain why this has been difficult for you.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You actively listen to, support and engage with peers
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You play an active role in group exercise discussions
Intellectual Contribution:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You are prepared with required readings and can supply additional background from own experience
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Your comments advance the level and depth of discussion during the activity
Overall Impact:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You have contributed importantly to the overall quality of the group activity and outcome.
Evaluation Grade
If most of your check marks are in this column you are:	A - Outstanding Your thoughtful contributions push the conversation and activity to a deeper level. You facilitate others' participation.	B-C – Good to Expected Your contributions keep the discussions on topic and the activities productive.	D – Inadequate
Comments: What can you do to increase your overall contribution to group activities? Do you have questions or concerns about your ability to participate more fully in group activities?
Delaine Hampton, Rotman Marketing Faculty.			